Key features of your Plan

Listed below are some of your Plan's most important features. For details, visit Benefits OnLine at benefits.ml.com.

Eligibility	You are eligible to enroll in the Plan on the first day of the month following achievement of 21 years of age and 3 months of service. The following are not eligible to participate in the Plan: • Non-resident aliens who receive no earned income from the employer from sources within the U.S. • Employees of an affiliate of the plan sponsor that is not a participating employer • Employees covered under a collective bargaining agreement
Enrollment	Once you're eligible, you can enroll on Benefits OnLine or by calling Merrill.
Employee contributions	You can contribute up to 75% of your eligible pay on a pre-tax and/or Roth 401(k) basis, subject to tax law limits. You can also contribute up to 75% of your eligible pay as traditional after-tax contributions. Current tax law limits are available at go.ml.com/401klimits. If you have contributed to another employer's 401(k) plan this year, please contact your Benefits Department to request the limiting of deductions or a refund of excess contributions.
Company contributions	Your company may match 100% of the first 6% of your eligible pay that you contribute. Matching contributions are made on a per pay period basis. Because this contribution is discretionary, it may vary from year to year.
Investment options	Your Plan offers a variety of investment options as well as Advice Access. To learn more, visit Benefits OnLine or call the Retirement & Benefits Contact Center.
Vesting	Your right to your account balance is called vesting. You're always 100% vested in your own contributions and any rollover contributions (each as adjusted for any earnings or losses). Company contributions, adjusted for earnings or losses, vest according to years of service as follows: 20% after 1 year, 40% after 2 years, 60% after 3 years, 85% after 4 years and 100% after 5 years or more.
Rollovers	The Plan may allow you to transfer balances from other employer-sponsored plans. You have choices for what to do with your 401(k) account or other type of employer-sponsored retirement plan accounts. Depending on your financial circumstances, needs and goals, you may choose to roll over to an IRA or convert to a Roth IRA, roll over a 401(k) account from a prior employer to a 401(k) account at your new employer, take a distribution, or leave the account where it is. Each choice may offer different investments and services, fees and expenses, withdrawal options, required minimum distributions and tax treatment (particularly with reference to employer stock), and provide different protection from creditors and legal judgments. These are complex choices and should be considered with care.
Beneficiary designation	You can add or update your beneficiary information on Benefits OnLine.
Loans	Permitted, subject to certain limits and restrictions. Be sure to consider the advantages and disadvantages of taking a loan before doing so.
In-service withdrawals	May be available, subject to Plan provisions and/or IRS rules.
Distributions	Due to retirement, termination of employment, total and permanent disability, or death (benefits go to your beneficiary).
Tax information	Taxes will be due upon withdrawal of pre-tax contributions, company contributions and any earnings. You may also be subject to a 10% additional federal tax if you take a withdrawal before age 59½, unless an exception applies. Any earnings on Roth 401(k) contributions can generally be withdrawn tax-free if you meet the two requirements for a "qualified distribution": 1) At least five years must have elapsed from the first day of the year of your initial contribution, or conversion, if earlier, and 2) You must have reached age 59½ or become disabled or deceased. If you take a non-qualified withdrawal of your Roth 401(k) contributions, any Roth 401(k) investment returns are subject to regular income taxes, plus a possible 10% additional federal tax if withdrawn before age 59½, unless an exception applies. State income tax laws vary; consult a tax professional to determine how your state treats Roth 401(k) distributions. Taxes on any earnings associated with after-tax contributions will be due upon withdrawal. You may also be subject to a 10% additional federal tax if your withdrawal is taken before age 59½, unless an exception applies.

Choose your investing approach

The Plan offers several choices for investing your account. You can get professional investment guidance for your retirement plan strategy with Advice Access. Or you can choose Self-Directed Brokerage if you seek greater investment flexibility and more choices than the Plan offers. You may also choose your own mix from the individual investment choices available through the Plan.

Get professional investment guidance

Advice Access offers specific, personalized recommendations for your retirement planning strategy. It's easy to use and can help provide answers to several key questions:

- How much do I need for retirement?
- How much should I contribute to the Plan?
- How should I invest my money?
- How should I withdraw my retirement assets?
- Am I on track with my goals?

In fact, you'll see your projected retirement income on Benefits OnLine in an easy-to-read dashboard, where you can check your progress toward your retirement income goal.

Advice Access uses information provided by your employer, or available to Merrill through its recordkeeping for the Plan, to develop its recommendations. If you want, you can provide more information — on a confidential basis — for more personalized recommendations. You have three implementation options to choose from, including a feature that manages your account for you on an ongoing basis.

Your individual investment choices

Your Plan offers a variety of investment options. You can create a diversified portfolio appropriate for your goals, tolerance for investment risk and time horizon (the time remaining before you'll need your money).

Your choices include funds from the three main asset classes — stocks, bonds and cash equivalents. As you review your Plan's choices, consider the importance of a well-balanced and diversified investment portfolio.* If you have too much of your account in any one investment or one type of investment, you may be subject to unnecessary risk.

Self-Directed Brokerage

In addition to the investment options described in this brochure, you can open a Self-Directed Brokerage account. Self-Directed Brokerage provides access to a wide variety of investment options not included in the Plan's investment menu, enabling you to further diversify your account. A minimum account balance of $50,000 in investable assets is needed to invest through a Self-Directed Brokerage account. There is an annual fee of $80 and commissions or transaction fees may apply.

Self-Directed Brokerage may be appropriate for participants who seek greater investment flexibility, choice and control of their retirement account, and are willing to pay more for additional investment choices. For more information about Self-Directed Brokerage, call Merrill.

Making account changes is easy

Once you're enrolled, you can always change your contribution rate and your investments on Benefits OnLine. Consider getting started today.

Your Plan offers tax benefits

Pre-tax contributions can lower your current taxable income. Roth 401(k) contributions do not lower your current taxable income. But they provide an alternative potential tax benefit: tax-free withdrawals if you take a "qualified distribution" (see previous page).

Benefits OnLine has a calculator that lets you estimate how your contributions could affect your take-home pay.

Advice Access is an online investment advisory program sponsored by Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Inc. ("MLPF&S" or "Merrill") that uses a probabilistic approach to determine the likelihood that participants in the program may be able to achieve their specified annual retirement income goal and/or to identify a potential wealth outcome that could be realized. The recommendations provided by Advice Access may include a higher level of investment risk than a participant may be personally comfortable with. Participants are strongly advised to consider their personal goals, overall risk tolerance, and retirement horizon before accepting any recommendations made by Advice Access. Participants should carefully review the explanation of the methodology used, including key assumptions and limitations as well as a description of services and related fees, which is provided in the Advice Access disclosure document (ADV Part 2A). It can be obtained through Benefits OnLine or through the Retirement and Benefits Contact Center.

Merrill offers a broad range of brokerage, investment advisory and other services. There are important differences between brokerage and investment advisory services, including the type of advice and assistance provided, the fees charged, and the rights and obligations of the parties. It is important to understand the differences, particularly when determining which service or services to select.

IMPORTANT: The projections or other information shown in the Advice Access program regarding the likelihood of various investment outcomes are hypothetical in nature, do not reflect actual investment results and are not guarantees of future results. Results may vary with each use and over time.

Investing in the Plan involves risk, including the possible loss of the principal value invested.

This material is only a general outline of the Plan. You're encouraged to read the Summary Plan Description to obtain more detailed information regarding the Plan's operation. This document gives you information you need to make educated decisions about joining the Plan and maintaining a Plan account. If a provision described in this outline differs from the applicable provision of the Plan documents, the Plan documents prevail.

Merrill, its affiliates, and financial advisors do not provide legal, tax, or accounting advice. You should consult your legal and/or tax advisors before making any financial decisions.

Merrill provides products and services to various employers, their employees and other individuals. In connection with providing these products and services, and at the request of the employer, Merrill makes available websites on the internet, mobile device applications, and written brochures in order to provide you with information regarding your plan. Under no circumstances should these websites, applications, and brochures, or any information included in these websites, applications, and brochures, be considered an offer to sell or a solicitation to buy any securities, products, or services from Merrill or any other person or entity.
